

GRACE LUTHERAN CHURCH PLAN JUNE 2022

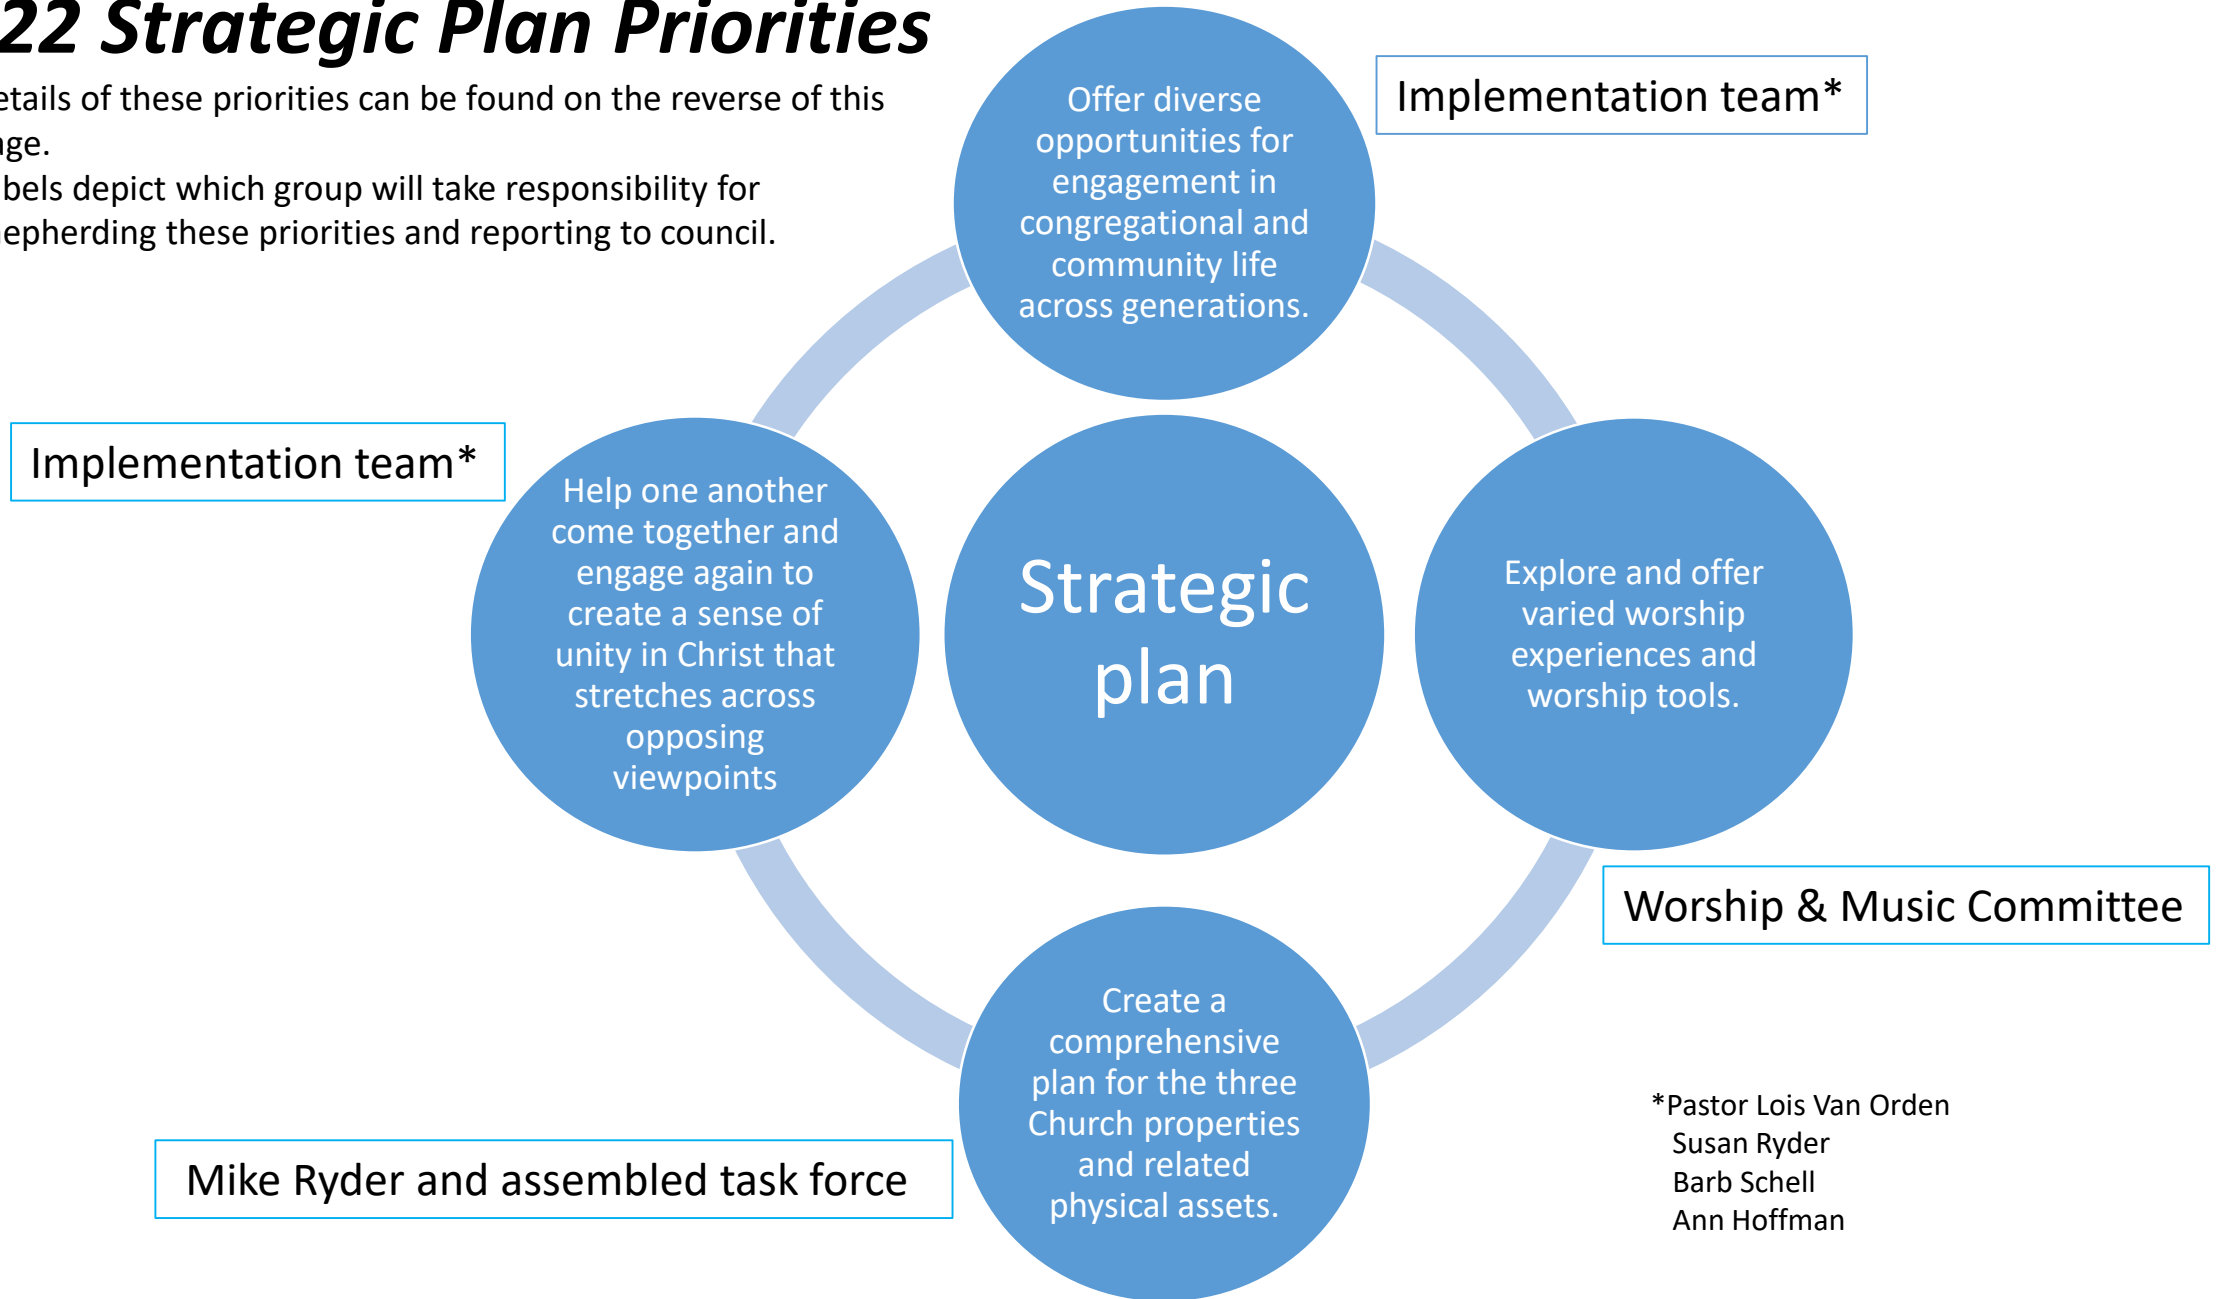

For nearly a year, the Congregation Council, Pastor Cover, and others have been working to understand what God is calling Grace Lutheran to do and to create a plan for the next several years. A written survey of the congregation, a listening session, and small groups provided the opportunity to hear the concerns, needs, dreams and desires of a wide range of members. Exploratory interviews were held with church and nonprofit organizations. Prayer was a regular part of the process. Many thanks to everyone involved. These are points to keep in mind to understand the plan:

- Grace Lutheran understands itself to be part of ELCA churchwide and the Lower Susquehanna Synod and takes into consideration its position and perspectives.
- As a result the disruption caused by the pandemic and also the current divisive environment in the wider society, a first priority is re-engaging members and bringing people together to learn and socialize so that relationships are deepened.
- As with most churches right now, there is a need to reinvigorate some infrastructure and volunteer engagement.
- With engaged members and new programmatic vigor, it will then be easier to attract new members.
- To address the needs and desires of a range of ages and interests some diversity of engagement opportunities, worship styles, etc. will be needed.
- There is a need to think systematically about the various church properties and to create a comprehensive plan for decision making.
- In the midst of pastoral transition, it will be important to leave space for a new person to be part of creating specific action plans for subsequent years.
- Committees, leaders, and interested members are empowered to use their gifts and ideas to create the specifics of items outlined below.
- The Planning Team would strongly suggest that, if financially feasible, a part-time coordinator position be created to assist with children’s ministries and to organize volunteer engagement to implement the plan.
